

JIB/BT5R

XLR Bluetooth 5.0 Receiver

Quick Start Guide

FAQ

- 1. Q. Can someone steal my Bluetooth® connection?
A. No, once the JIB/BT5R is paired with a Bluetooth® enabled device, other devices can not pair with it.

- 2. Q. Is there a chance of interference with Bluetooth®?
A. There is always a chance of interference with any Bluetooth® connection. Bluetooth® is in the same frequency band as many cell phones and WiFi routers. These have higher outputs than Bluetooth® and can cause interference.

- 3. Q. How far does the wireless connection reach?
A. This JIB/BT5R has a range over 300 feet (100 meters), under ideal conditions.

- 4. Q. If I turn the JIB/BT5R off, will I have to reconnect my Bluetooth® device?
A. No, the JIB/BT5R remembers the last device it is paired with and will automatically reconnect.

- 5. Q. Can I pause the music from my Bluetooth® device using the JIB/BT5R?
A. No, you must pause the music on your Bluetooth® enabled device.

Single Receiver Operation

1

On your Bluetooth® device, turn the Bluetooth® feature on.

2

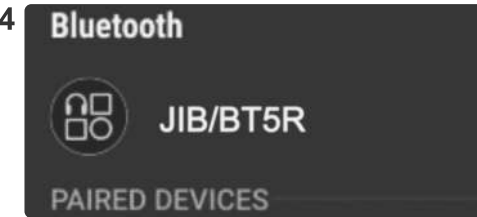

Flip the "POWER" switch on JIB/BT5R receiver to power on and begin pairing.

3

The "Pair" LED will alternate flashing between blue and red when ready to pair.

4

In your Bluetooth® enabled device, scan for devices and locate the JIB/BT5R. Tap it to connect to the receiver.

5

When pairing is successful, the "PAIR" LED will remain blue.

Dual Receiver Operation

1

To use two receivers as a stereo pair, first turn on both receivers.

2

The "Pair" LED will alternate flashing between blue and red when ready to link.

3

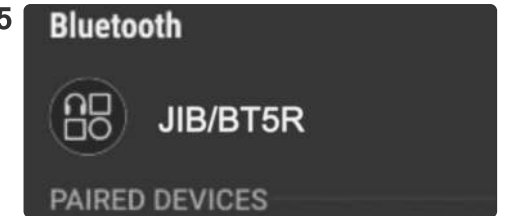

Press and hold both "STEREO-LINK" buttons for 2 seconds, when paired both will flash blue quickly for a few seconds

4

One of the two receivers will now flash blue and red indicating it is ready to pair with your Bluetooth device

5

In your Bluetooth® enabled device, scan for devices and locate the JIB/BT5R. Tap it to connect to the receivers.

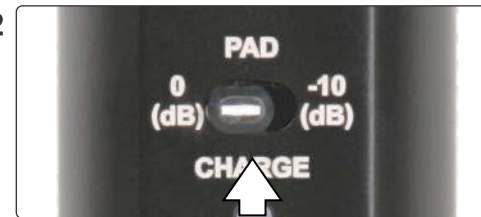

Setup

1

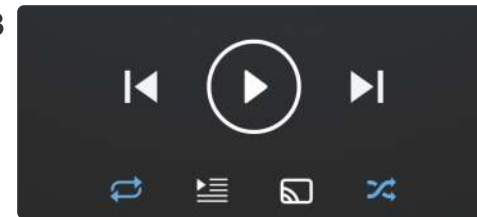

Plug receiver into an active speaker, amp, or mixer.

2

When plugged into Mic level input, a pad switch can be flipped for appropriate sensitivities.

3

Play your music from your Bluetooth® enabled device.

Note:

It is recommended to adjust the volume of devices in the following order:

1. Adjust the Bluetooth® enabled device volume higher.
2. If using a mixer, first adjust the input channel levels and then its main output level.
3. The active Speaker/Amp should be the last volume adjustment.

4

To charge the receiver, plug the Micro USB Charger into the charging input. The receiver can remain plugged in for more long-term use.
